No Bonded Highway Bobt; Let's Keep Arkansas That Way

The Arkansas Highway Commission has proposed a road bond issue of $416 million and a 3c increase in the gasoline tax to finance it.

If the need were shown The Star would go along with a gasoline tax increase—but a bond issue, Never.

Taxes can be flexible, moved up or down as circumstances and the performance of public officials are judged by the taxpayers.

But a bond issue is irrevocable. Once the voters endorse a bond issue and the bonds are sold the people will find they have hung a millstone around their collective necks which only the passage of years and the spending of millions in interest can remove.

The trouble with state bond issues (as opposed to local issues, which this writer goes along with) is that their long-term run exposes the taxpayers to all kinds of administrations, both wise and foolish—and no matter how great the mismanagement may become the people are stuck with a mortgage to the bondholders.

Bond issues are particularly vulnerable when applied to highways. Bond proceeds are susceptible to "horse trading" and diversion to purposes the people never intended.

Two specific examples come to mind. Currently there is the multi-billion-dollar Highway Trust Fund created by a 4-cent federal gasoline tax levy to finance the Interstate System, with secondary benefits for highways in general. True, this represents merely a tax with no bond issue, but it spells out the diversion threat which menaces highway funds, whether from taxes or bonds. The recent session of Congress narrowly averted authorizing the robbing of the Highway Trust Fund of $800 million for the development of commuter rail and bus lines serving the big cities. Proponents of this diversion to non-road purposes said they would be back in force when the new Congress convenes in 1973. To politicians nothing is sacred where road money is concerned.

Such diversion did occur when Arkansas issued the Martineau road bonds in 1927. Gov. Martineau, elected in 1926, advanced the bond issue with the best of intentions. His proposal was to resolve the problem created when road districts were formed to mortgage farmland to build roads in the early 1920s. Bond payments were threatening to confiscate farmland which never should have been pledged to the costly task of building highways.

The Martineau plan, justly hailed as a magnificent and workable compromise, called for the state to take over the improvement district debts and begin road building in the counties which had no road debt. I was an eye witness of the start of that program, being then at El Dorado—for Union county had no district debt and therefore got the initial benefits of the Martineau plan in concrete paving, the No. 1 project in the entire state being the construction of the El Dorado-Smackover road.

Even so, there was a serious misapplication of bond money. The county judges applied pressure to state authorities and siphoned off 12 1/2 per cent of the Martineau bond issue for the counties. The counties spent this money locally on dirt roads—and the whole 12 1/2 per cent of millions washed away in the first rainy season.

Where did I get this information? It's in the public record, of course—but I got it from the man who wrote the record—the late Justin Matthews, who is credited with devising the Martineau bond plan and shepherding it through the General Assembly. I encountered the Little Rock

Bumpers 'Faces the Nation'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Sunday that change in the Democratic party must be carefully structured if traditional Democrats who voted for President Nixon are to be won back.

"Certainly this past election has demonstrated that the mood of this country is highly centrist," Bumpers said on CBS-TV's "Face the Nation," which was taped in Little Rock. "I think that the leadership of the Democratic party should set a new tone."

The governor, chairman of the National Democratic Governors' Caucus, said party Chairman Jean Westwood should be replaced by someone who could provide "catalytic leadership" and bring "all these disenchanted people back into the party."

Bumpers and four other Democratic governors have called for Mrs. Westwood's resignation, but she has said she will resist efforts to remove her. The governors' caucus is scheduled to meet Dec. 3 in St. Louis to decide how it will assert influence in the party and the Democratic National Committee will meet Dec. 9, at which time a move may be made to oust Mrs. Westwood.

realtor one day in the 1929-33 depression when he stopped at the Barlow hotel in Hope, and I asked him about the county judges' 12 1/2 per cent cut. Mr. Matthews told me the Martineau administration faced a legislature more or less controlled by the County Judges Association. He said:

"It was a matter of political jockeying. In our initial proposal we shut out the county judges entirely. They lined up to stop the bond issue. Then we sprang our counter offer of a 12 1/2 per cent cut—and they were so surprised and delighted that we put the bond measure through the legislature."

Maybe it was necessary. Maybe it wasn't. But it illustrates the risk the taxpayers run when they pledge the state's credit for funds the politicians will administer.

Arkansas is the only state in the Union with no highway bond debt.

Let's keep it that way.

Bumpers said he saw no great rush to replace Mrs. Westwood. But he said appointment of a charter commission to review the party structure and rules should be the responsibility of the new leadership. He also suggested that four regional vice chairmen be named.

He said a concern of Democrats should be to achieve the return of those who voted for the Republican in the presidential election this year.

The governor said the charter commission would have to decide the specifics on how to make the party more agreeable to labor and other "disenchanted" groups.

He said the party could not continue to suffer defeats on the scale of the loss by Sen. George S. McGovern, particularly in the South, if it is to remain the majority party.

Bumpers said Arkansas was not ready to give up its Democratic tradition. "The feeling is still there, and I'm certain of it," he said.

Bumpers was asked if he might run for national office, in view of his own easy re-election this year.

The governor laughed and said, "I'll probably be practicing law in a small town four years from now."

Willie Brandt wins Adenauer-style victory

BONN (AP) — Like Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in years gone by, Willie Brandt bet heavily on the popularity of his own leader image and won a massive Adenauer-style election victory on Sunday.

Brandt's Christian Democratic opponents, who still revere Adenauer as their grand old man, had powerful domestic issues going for them. But observers said their party leader, Rainer Barzel, couldn't match either Brandt or Adenauer in projecting the kind of statesmanlike appeal that leader-conscious West Germans respond to.

Brandt and his Socialist-Liberal coalition often seemed in deep trouble before the election.

But his personalized campaign style under the slogan

"Willy Brandt must remain Chancellor" focused attention on his Nobel Prize-winning role as a mediator between East and West.

All Around Town

The annual meeting of the Hempstead County Quorum Court will be held tonight (Monday) beginning at 7 p.m. in the county courtroom.

Army Col. Samuel C. Smith, nephew of Mrs. Edward Schooley and Mrs. Herbert Griffin, both of Hope, has been awarded the first oak leaf cluster to the Legion of Merit. The colonel earned the medal for his service while previously assigned to the Organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington, D.C. He is now with Headquarters U.S. European Command (USEUCOM) at Stuttgart, Germany.

The night classes scheduled at Red River Vocational Technical School Thursday (drafting, typing, and shorthand) will be held tomorrow (Tuesday) prior to the Thanksgiving holiday. It is not too late to enroll in any of the night classes at the school.

Troop 162 will hold a court of honor in the Rising Star Baptist Church Annex at 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 26. Parents and all interested persons are invited. James Davis, Scoutmaster;

Floyd Young, Comm. Chairman.

Boy Scout Troop 91 will hold a Court of Honor tonight (Monday) at 7 o'clock in the Lion's Club Scout Hut at Fair Park. Scoutmaster Olen Overturn urges all parents to attend to see their boys receive the awards they have earned.

Ten outstanding seniors, including Rebecca Stuart of Hope, will participate in the annual Heart and Key Junior Miss Scholarship Pageant scheduled for the Arkansas Hall Auditorium, Henderson State College, tonight (Monday).

The second general meeting of Hope Centennial Committee will be held Tuesday, Nov. 21, at 7 p.m. in the City Hall auditorium (upstairs). Chairman Haskell Jones requests that all committees have a report ready to give to the full committee. One of the major topics of discussion will be the possibility of acquiring the Frisco Depot for use as a centennial headquarters, and later as a visitors center and museum. Any person interested in helping the committee has been invited to attend.

Final series of talks are now underway

PARIS (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger resumed his secret peace negotiations with Hanoi's Le Duc Tho in Paris today amid indications that their governments are determined to seek a quick settlement.

The chief obstacle appeared to be the South Vietnamese government's insistent demand for withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. But Kissinger gave no indication how strongly he would insist on this point.

President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser said on his arrival Sunday that if Tho and his associate Xuan Thuy showed "the same spirit of understanding and flexibility which characterized our meetings in October, a rapid settlement of the war is probable."

Kissinger and Tho drafted an agreement last month calling for an on-the-spot cease-fire throughout South Vietnam, followed by withdrawal of all American forces, release of all prisoners of war and elections in South Vietnam under international supervision.

North Vietnam set an Oct. 31 deadline for signing the agreement, but the United States refused to be rushed. Kissinger told a news conference in Washington on Oct. 26 some details still needed clarification but added:

"We have given a commitment that a text that will be agreed to at the next session will be the final text and that no new changes will be proposed."

While publicly accusing the United States of stalling, North Vietnamese officials in Paris contended privately that this was a commitment to finalize the text at the current session. These officials expressed concern over reports from Washington that Kissinger will seek Saigon's approval of the "final" draft and may ask for still another negotiating session with Tho to make the agreement acceptable to Saigon.

"In this way, it may never end," one Hanoi official said. President Nguyen Van Thieu's South Vietnamese openly described the October draft as a sellout, and the Viet Cong said it represented the "absolute maximum" of concessions the Communists could make.

Thieu's major objection is that the draft does not explicitly require the withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam. Hanoi spokesmen have repeatedly said North Vietnam will not even discuss the withdrawal of its troops, asserting that this would "put the American aggressor on the same level as the victims of aggression."

Thieu has insisted that negotiations between his government and the Viet Cong provided for in the draft should take place before — not after — signing of the agreement.

"The Communists want us to sign first and then negotiate," a Saigon spokesman said. "We want to negotiate first and then sign what we have agreed to."

Hempstead County man dies in wreck

James W. Self, 28, of Washington, was killed about 4:30 a.m. this morning (Monday) in an auto accident on State Highway 4 four miles north of Centerpoint in Howard County.

Self was reportedly driving a truck which hit a cow crossing the road. The truck then ran off a bridge, it was reported.

He is survived by his wife, Linda Gilbert Self, a son, Ronald Wayne of the home; his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Claude Self of Hope; three sisters, Mrs. Claudine Brown and Mrs. Nelda Beck, both of Hope, and Mrs. Helen Byers of Camden.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Herndon Chapel with the Rev. Elbert O'Steen and the Rev. Gene Shoemaker officiating. Burial will be in the Friendship Cemetery near McCaskill under the direction of Herndon Funeral Home of Hope.

Same game... another era

At the top of the front page today, the Star features the Hope High School basketball team. Above is another area team—from another era. The 1909-1910 Sutton (Nevada County) High School basketball team lost only two games in two years—one to Stamps YMCA in a regular season game and the other to Crosset in the finals of the 1910 state tournament. The state tournament was held in a skating rink in Hot Springs, and during timeouts and at the end of quarters, spectators would skate on the floor, one surviving member of the team recalled. The final score—20-16. Members of the team were, from left: Algia Dillard, acting referee for state tournament game only, deceased; Brad Bright, deceased; G. L. Andres Sr., a resident of Sutton; Earnest Bennett, deceased; Liburn Galloway, deceased; Cleveland Andres, deceased; Sam Hamilton, manager for the state tournament trip, a resident of Mississippi.

Radar-guided bombs smash VN

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Flying at 35,000 feet above monsoon thunderstorms, waves of U.S. B52 bombers dropped 1,200 tons of radar-guided bombs on North Vietnamese positions just below the demilitarized zone, military spokesmen reported today.

Some 40 of the Stratofortresses struck in support of South Vietnamese marines in Quang Tri province who were hit by 3,500-round artillery and mortar barrage over the weekend.

At least 44 North Vietnamese troops were killed in the fighting Saturday and Sunday, while government losses were at least 12 killed and 78 wounded, according to communiques from the Saigon command and field reports.

Despite the stiff resistance and heavy rains, field reports said the marines, backed by an armored column, had advanced about two miles and expanded their area of operations to a coastal strip of land 8 miles north-northeast of Quang Tri city.

It was the stiffest resistance encountered by the marines since they recaptured Quang Tri City Sept. 16. The North Vietnamese still control most of the province, and the South Vietnamese are trying to get back what they can before a cease-fire.

U.S. military sources disclosed that war materials were still flowing southward through the DMZ to enemy troops, despite the monsoon-swollen Ben Hai river which is the dividing line through the six-mile-wide buffer zone. Some troop relocations also are moving in, but no new units are crossing, the sources said.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, Communist forces killed at least 14 South Vietnamese and wounded 22 in ambushes and mortar and grenade attacks near Saigon, Da Nang and Pleiku, and in Long My, a district town in the Mekong Delta.

Military sources reported another three government troops were killed and 66 were wounded when a grenade carried by a South Vietnamese soldier accidentally went off at a helicopter pickup point near An Loc.

Court reduces sentence to life in jail

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court, saying it was obliged by the U.S. Supreme Court to do so, reduced today from death to life imprisonment the sentence given Daniel Lon Graham for first-degree murder.

Graham, who lived near Springdale, was convicted of first-degree murder in the death June 18, 1970, of Gene Allen Franco, 22, who was shot in the back of the head on a country road.

Franco was one of three persons shot beside that road by a gunman who had robbed the Safeway store where they were employed in Springdale. One of those who had been shot survived and told authorities the gunman took them to the spot and forced them to lie down, then shot them one-by-one.

The state Supreme Court, in an opinion by Associate Justice Conley Byrd, said that the U.S. Supreme Court, "as presently constituted," had decided that where a jury is permitted to decide between the punishments of life and death, the death penalty constitutes "cruel and unusual punishment" that is prohibited by the state and federal constitutions.

Such an interpretation is applicable to the states through the 14th Amendment, Byrd wrote in the court's opinion.

"So long as the ruling... is made applicable to this state, we are obliged to reduce the sentence from death to life imprisonment as being the next highest available penalty," Byrd wrote.

At the trial, the Circuit Court jury of 10 men and two women convicted Graham, but did not recommend a penalty of life imprisonment. In light of that, Judge Maupin Cummings imposed a sentence of death.

Graham appealed, contending the penalty was cruel and unusual punishment prohibited by the constitutions.

The murder of Franco took place after Graham had escaped from the state prison system, where he was being held under a life sentence in connection with the kidnapping of the wife of a DeValls Bluff banker.

The state Supreme Court said that in reducing the death sentence in the murder case, it was creating a second life sentence against Graham and that this "does not necessarily mean that his punishment will be greater or more severe," then when he was under only one life sentence.

"Nor can we say with certainty that he will be any less likely to escape in the future," Byrd wrote.

Court rejects appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today rejected an appeal that school teachers in Dallas, Tex., had deprived students of their "fundamental liberties" by striking them with paddles and tennis shoes as punishment.

The appeal was made by the parents of two high-school students, Douglas Ware and Roderick Oliver. The Oliver youth was allegedly knocked unconscious by an assistant principal who was subsequently suspended, according to papers in the case.

The Court turned down the plea for a hearing without comment and over the objection of Justice William O. Douglas.

The complaint was dismissed last year by U.S. District Court Judge W. M. Taylor of Dallas.

Patents for computers ruled out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled out patents for programming digital computers.

"If these programs are to be patentable, considerable problems are raised which only committees of Congress can manage," Justice William O. Douglas said in the 6-0 decision.

The ruling, which will have a broad impact on the still-developing computer "software" field, supports the government and rejects the claims of two Bell Telephone Laboratories' employees who wanted a patent for programming a general-purpose digital computer.

IRA calls for a 'wave of protest' in three countries

BELFAST (AP) — A bomb killed two British soldiers today near the border between Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic.

First reports said the men died as they were searching a vacant house at Cullyhanna, near Crossmaglen in County Armagh.

The deaths raised Northern Ireland's known fatality toll to 633 in three years of sectarian strife.

The blast came as the Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army called for "a wave of protest" in the United States, Britain and Ireland against the arrest by the Irish government of the Provos' chief of staff, Sean MacStiofain.

The Provisionals' political arm, Sinn Fein, said MacStiofain's arrest in Dublin Sunday was an "act of collaboration" with the British Army, "calculated to give aid and comfort to the forces of British imperialism in Ireland."

MacStiofain is believed to be the mastermind of the IRA's campaign of violence in Northern Ireland, which is aimed at uniting the province with the Irish Republic.

The Dublin government has been reluctant to crack down on IRA leaders because of their grass-roots support in the republic. But in recent months the government pushed a Special Powers Act through Parliament, to bring IRA men to trial without jury and several other terrorist leaders have been arrested.

The apprehension of MacStiofain posed a new challenge to the IRA's claims to wide support in the republic and perhaps sets the stage for a conflict between the IRA and Dublin's security forces.

MacStiofain, 40, was one of the most wanted men in Britain and Ireland. He caused a sensation three weeks ago by walking through police lines to show up at a Sinn Fein meeting.

MacStiofain was arrested shortly after recording an interview broadcast later by the state radio network.

Anniversary for queen and prince

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Church bells rang and flags were out up and down Britain as crowds flocked to London today to help Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary.

The silver jubilee was planned as a mixture of pomp, pageantry and informality, with the royal couple taking their first walkabout among the ordinary people of England.

The day's activities got under way with the 46-year-old monarch and her 51-year-old husband opening hundreds of congratulatory messages which flooded Buckingham Palace from throughout the world.

Their first public appearance was a drive to Westminster Abbey — where they were married in 1947 — for a thanksgiving service.

Special guests were to be about 100 other couples who were married on the same day as the Queen and Philip.

Children were given a school holiday, and nationwide television coverage of the festivities was scheduled.

Four state carriages escorted by Household Cavalry were to take the royal family from the Palace to the Guildhall in the City of London for a luncheon in one of the city's most traditional ten areas. Afterward the queen and her husband were to stroll informally along a half mile of elevated walkways in a new development.

The Queen introduced the royal walkabout on a tour of Australia, but not until today has she moved so informally among the people of England.

Prince Charles and Princess Anne invited several hundred friends of the royal family to Buckingham Palace tonight for a dinner dance in honor of their parents.

How's Your Hearing?

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone answering this advertisement.

Try it to see how it is worn in the privacy of your own home without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep, free. It weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free from our Hearing Aid Division, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Write to Dept. 2684, Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria, Chicago, Ill. 60646.

HEADLIGHTS HELPFUL ADVICE FOR THE WOMAN DRIVER

Anticipation is the key to safe, skilled driving

Every second we're behind the wheel we have to anticipate what's going to happen in the next ten seconds. Zipping along in traffic at 60 miles per hour, for example, we have to ask ourselves what we plan to do if the driver in front of us suddenly slams on his brakes.

Suppose he blows a tire and veers out of control? What are we going to do? Suppose we're entering a blind curve and coming at us head-on is someone trying to pass another car? Now what? It's sad to say but most of us in such a situation slam on the brakes and hope for the best. Unfortunately, hope isn't enough.

What you should do in such a situation is head for an escape route, steer your car onto another line of direction, if there is one. Even if the space on your right is narrow, it's better to head for it than risk a head-on collision.

For a free booklet of helpful advice on safe driving and maintenance of your car, write to Gulf Oil Company, U.S., P.O. Box 1519-TG, Houston, Texas 77001. Ask for the booklet, "Straight Talk for the Woman Driver."

Remember, you must always drive the car, not simply ride in it. No car in motion and under control will go anywhere unless you make it go there.

Bold Make-up

Today's bold make-up requires a steady hand and careful application, probably more now than with a more subtle make-up. Lip liner is a must for the well-defined lips, reminiscent of the '40s, and colorful cheeks must be carefully blended to avoid the rosy-cheeked-doll-look.

Friday Music Club presents awards

The club chorus and the invocation at the Friday Music Club meeting on Nov. 17 at the home of Mrs. B.C. Hyatt.

A musical program was presented on two pianos with Mrs. Hyatt as the program leader. Selections played were: "Witches Dance" by Mac Dowell, Mrs. H.A. Spraggins and Mrs. B.W. Edwards; "Sonata in G" by Mozart (second piano by Gries), Mrs. Paul Henley and Mrs. B.C. Hyatt; "Malaguena" by Lecuona, Mrs. Arthur Strech and Mrs. Hyatt; "Allegro Deciso" (Water Music) by Handel, Mrs. Henley, Mrs. Strech, Mrs. Hyatt, and Mrs. Stewart; "Concerto in G Minor" by Mendelssohn, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Hyatt.

Coming, Going

Rebecca Stuart is attending the District Junior Miss Pageant in Arkadelphia today (Monday) as a delegate from Hope High School.

Mrs. Talbot Feild, Jr. went to Little Rock Friday to a luncheon for the L. Abri ensemble which performed at the Pulaski Baptist Church Friday night. The violinist in the group, Mrs. Fran Kramer of Colorado Springs, Colo., is a former classmate of Mrs. Feild at Wheaton, Ill.

Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr. was presented a Certificate of Appreciation in recognition of her service to Girl Scouting at the Conifer Girl Scout Council Annual Awards Luncheon held Nov. 16 at the Holiday Inn in Texarkana. George Frazier served as master of ceremonies, and Mrs. Gail Sinyard and Mrs. Robert Walsh also attended from Hope.

Webb Laseter, III, Blytheville, arrived Saturday to see Webb Laseter, Jr., a patient in a local hospital, and Mary Anita Laseter.

Mrs. J.C. Atchley and Steve attended the Friday night performance of the junior high school play in Camden, a drama titled "The Perfect Idiot" by Grant Atkinson. Don Atchley was the director of the play.

Antique Collectors Club meets

The Hempstead County Antique Collectors Club met Tuesday, Nov. 14 and elected officers for 1973 as follows:

President, Portus Gilley; vice-president, Mrs. Jarrell Collier; secretary, Mrs. Robert Maney; treasurer, Mrs. Tom Matchett; entertainment and refreshment chairman, Mrs. Ari Fincher; door prize chairman, Mrs. Herbert Dodson; program chairman, Mrs. H.F. Worthy; publicity chairman, Mrs. Pink White.

Turtleneck Trick

Give a favorite turtleneck sweater a whole new look. Top it off with a short-sleeved, deep plunging, wrap-around top in a bright print.

The president, Mrs. James McLarty, introduced three new members, Mrs. Glenn Parks, Jr., Mrs. Elmer Brown, and Mrs. Byron Holt. Numerous Awards of Merit were presented to various individuals and groups for work done during National Music Week. All members joined in singing the hymn of the month, "Now We Thank Thee," and the club chorus closed the meeting with the benediction, "Bless Us O God."

Golden Age Club plans area tours

The Golden Age Club met November 16 at the Douglas Building, and the Rev. G.W. Hooten voiced the opening prayer.

Eighteen club members attended and made plans for a tour of Hope on Dec. 7. They will visit Meyer's Bakery, Spears Carpet Mills, and the Bruner Ivory Handle Company and will have a sack lunch at noon.

Members will be picked up at their homes beginning at 9 a.m. on Dec. 7 and are asked to be ready by that time.

At the November meeting the door prize was won by Mrs. Maggie Cowling. Cookies and cake were served with coffee.

Body suits are made in many styles and colors to go with the super high-waisted pants.

Food for Americans

Cranbrosia stars cranberries

Cranberry dish with a difference combines other fruits, sour cream.

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Cranberries are now a year-round pleasure because of new packaging techniques. However, the tart and colorful red berry is still the traditionally favorite fruit to accompany Thanksgiving dishes. It appears as a sauce, jelly and in a gelatin mold. A cranberry gelatin mold with a difference combines mandarin oranges, pineapple, bananas, coconut, sour cream and whipped cream. Such a combination makes it an excellent salad or a dessert.

CRANBROSIA
2 cups fresh or frozen fresh cranberries, coarsely ground or chopped
1 cup sugar
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments, well drained
1 can (8 oz.) pineapple chunks, well drained
1 cup shredded coconut

1 large banana, cubed
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup sour cream
1 cup heavy or whipping cream

Combine cranberries and sugar. Mix thoroughly to dissolve sugar. Drain well and reserve liquid from oranges and pineapple chunks. Add oranges, pineapple, coconut and banana to cranberries. Sprinkle gelatin over 3/4 cup of combined juices to soften.

Place over medium heat, stirring constantly to dissolve gelatin. Add to fruits. Fold in sour cream. Whip cream until stiff peaks form. Fold into fruit mixture. Turn into 13x9x2-inch dish or 2-quart mold. Chill thoroughly until firm, overnight if possible. If desired, servings may be topped with more sweet or sour cream. Serve as salad or dessert topped with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 16 servings.

Perfect Marriage Goes F.F.T.

DEAR HELEN: I thought I had a perfect marriage. My husband has always been a wife's dream: generous, loving, even-tempered, a good father, a good companion.

My dream shattered last week when a friend casually mentioned his affair. She thought I knew about it. Said most wives do, after the filing is over.

I asked my husband and he confessed to seeing another woman, but said they broke off a year ago. He tried to explain about how a man can love two women for a while, but then one wins and he gives the other up. He said this was his first and last affair and he loved only me and I should know that.

But I don't know that. My husband broke faith and things will never be the same. All the time I felt secure and wanted, he and that other woman were probably laughing at my stupidity. Or maybe he was comparing her to me!

I'm so terribly hurt that I'm at the threshold of divorce. How could he do this to me? —DEVASTATED

DEAR D.:

Look now! Exactly what DID your husband do that isn't highly forgettable? Had you not uncovered the affair, you'd still be basking in your perfect marriage. He never once neglected you and he never stopped loving you either, so forget your "terrible hurt" and those fears about being "laughed at or compared."

It's over and he's back to monogamy again. You CAN put this aside if you remember that faithfulness has many forms, and he only failed ONE of the tests (one you might have failed yourself, given a weak moment and a strong temptation). —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was shocked at the flippant treatment of a terrible, ugly disease when I listened to "VD Blues" last month, on our educational television. What's happened to morality? The line was, "Go out and turn the world into a great big bedroom, people, just so you get your shot next day."

Instead of applauding free love (lewd fornication is a better word!) they should have pushed abstinence and quoted serious statistics to prove sex outside of marriage is weakening the country. This permissiveness may well be our downfall, for a hedonistic society will not survive. Look at the Roman Empire.

Please state your reactions, Helen, to 1. That leering VD show, and 2. My comments about it. —NOT A PRUDE

DEAR NOT:

1. "VD Blues" got solid applause from me (and from most of its viewing audience). I hope this is the forerunner of many other no-holds-barred treatments of social problems.

2. Your comments rate my one-handed clap (excuse the word). A lecture on morality would turn back the VD epidemic about the way Carrie Nation "cured" America's taste for booze. —H.

DEAR HELEN: What has television got against middle-aged women? In three shows the other night, there was an "Edith," a dingbat matron, and a dumb, bossy mother-in-law. Do situation comedies depend on making women look ridiculous? It goes on every night. —MIDDLE-AGED PROTESTER

TV situation comedy doesn't exactly put middle-aged men on pedestals either. This year, it seems, the elders are mainly for laughs while the offspring are the wise ones. Maybe because TV has so many young writers. . . ? —H.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): Weigh carefully what you say and scrutinize closely what you write today. Your thinking tends to be fuzzy.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): Misunderstanding, mistakes could result if you handle someone else's money carelessly. Check totals. Get receipts.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Spell out agreements you make today to be certain terms are clearly understood by all parties involved.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Petty attitudes of others may result in unreasonable criticism of your work today. Ignore the barbs.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): Avoid the "inside information" offered by well-meaning friends. The information is likely to fizzle.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): If you're in a position where you feel you must alibi to look good, don't. It won't work.

You will focus this year on learning new methods that will help you handle things more smoothly. Pitfalls will not sidetrack your will to make progress.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): Travel arrangements could be very confusing today. If you're traveling carefully check schedules and timetables.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Money matters will tend to be complicated today. Count your change twice, particularly if paying old bills.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): Offer only what you plan to deliver in joint arrangements today. Others will know if you're putting them on.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): Unseen factors make the project you're working on more complicated. Concentrate to keep purpose and direction clear.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): A casual, innocent flirtation will supply fodder for nosy friends. Be discreet in all encounters.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Problems at home should not be aired in public. You may be right, but others' sympathy will be lacking.

Magnolia moves into finals

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Little Rock Ole Main continues to reign as the top-ranked team in The Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll, but Magnolia is the only unbeaten school left in the state.

Magnolia Coach Don Hubbard isn't really complaining about that unique status, but says: "That makes it bad. It gives Newport a lot to shoot at."

Fourth-ranked Magnolia puts its 12-0 record on the line in War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock Friday night against Newport in the finals of the Class AA playoffs. Newport is 11-1 on the season and ninth ranked in the AP poll.

High school football action will end for the season after the traditional Thanksgiving Day rivalries and the playoffs Friday night. The games pit most of the top 10 teams against each other.

Ole Main carries its No. 1 ranking and 9-1 record into a Thanksgiving Day meeting with sixth-ranked Little Rock Catholic. Second-ranked Little Rock Hall meets eighth-ranked Little Rock Central on Thanksgiving.

No. 3 Hot Springs and No. 5 Jonesboro meet Friday night in the Class AAA championship game.

The others in the top 10 are Forrest City, ranked seventh, and Malvern, ranked 10th.

The order of the Class AA rankings is Magnolia, Newport and Malvern. The Class A rankings are Prescott, Clarendon and Marked Tree, with Prescott and Clarendon deciding the Class A championship in Friday night's playoff.

The Class B list is Magnet Cove No. 1, Farmington No. 2 and DeValls Bluff No. 3. Magnet Cove and Farmington will meet in the Class B playoff championship.

Hubbard said he could not remember a season when there had been only one unbeaten team in the state. "If that should happen to us," he said the last time his Panthers went undefeated, in 1968, there were several teams with unblemished records, but that was before the days of the playoffs, where several unbeaten teams were knocked off this season.

But, says Hubbard, "It's been a fun season — we won."

"It has been an exciting season, probably more so than any other we've had because we've won a lot of games just barely, right at the last minute," Hubbard said. "We've had a lot of long touchdown runs, long touchdown passes — the kind of things you like to see — and I think the fans have pretty well got their money's worth at every game they've seen."

Like last Friday night, when Magnolia defeated Sheridan 23-9 in the semifinals of the Class AA playoff.

The final score doesn't tell the story. Magnolia trailed for three minutes left in the game. Then, senior quarterback Ken Barker, who had not played for four games because of injury, entered the game and drove the Panthers to two touchdowns.

Hubbard's other quarterback is Doug Rich. He and Barker have combined for about 1,300 passing yards while the Panthers have picked up about 2,500 yards on the ground.

Hubbard says the balance of his offensive attack is one of the Panthers' big assets.

Results of the poll, with first-place votes and records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. NLR Ole Main (9) (9-1) 105
2. Little Rock Hall (8-1) 92
3. Hot Springs (1) (9-1) 80

4. Magnolia (1) (12-0) 74
5. Jonesboro (10-1) 66
6. LR Catholic (9-1-1) 59
7. Forrest City (8-1-2) 43
8. LR Central (8-3-2) 23
9. Newport (11-1) 20
10. Malvern (8-2) 19

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Conway, Fort Smith, Northside, Harrison, Morrilton, NLR Northeast, Sheridan and Springdale.

- Class AA
1. Magnolia (11) (12-0) 36
  2. Newport (11-1) 16
  3. Malvern (8-2) 14

Others receiving votes: Harrison and Sheridan.

- Class A
1. Prescott (8) (9-3) 30
  2. Clarendon (3) (8-3) 23
  3. Marked Tree (11-1) 6 1/2

Others receiving votes: Beebe and Greenwood.

- Class B
1. Magnet Cove (9) (11-1) 31
  2. Farmington (2) (10-1) 24
  3. DeValls Bluff (9-2) 7

Others receiving votes: Danville and Murfreesboro.

Dolphins win division title

By KEN RAPPOPORT ...

Associated Press Sports Writer After intercepting a swarm of Jets, the Miami Dolphins are taking off into the National Football League's wild, blue yonder.

It's Super Bowl or bust, says Coach Don Shula.

"We've got to get this football team ready to start the playoffs," said Shula after his tough guys won the American Football Conference's Eastern Division title with a 28-24 decision over the New York Jets Sunday.

Shula made it plain that he wouldn't take anything less than a return-trip ticket to the NFL's championship game. The Dolphins were humiliated in the Big One last year by the Dallas Cowboys.

"Sure, winning a division championship is important," said Shula, "but now we've got the second season to think about."

In winning the division title over their closest pursuers, the Dolphins grabbed their 10th straight division title. With four more games to go, they threaten to become only the third team in NFL history to finish a regular season undefeated.

While Miami ran away and hid from its opponents in the AFC East, the NFL's remaining division titles were still up for grabs after Sunday's action.

The Cleveland Browns bounced the Pittsburgh Steelers 28-24 and threw their AFC Central race into a tie; Oakland crushed Denver 37-20 and moved 1 1/2 games up on the Kansas City Chiefs in the AFC West. The Chiefs were beaten 27-17 by the San Diego Chargers.

In the National Football Conference, the Dallas Cowboys smashed the Philadelphia Eagles 28-7 and moved within a half-game of front-running Washington in the East. The Redskins play a game tonight against the Atlanta Falcons, who are tied for first in the West.

Los Angeles fell into a tie with Atlanta after dropping a 45-41 decision to the Minnesota Vikings. Green Bay held onto first in the Central by one game after beating the Houston Oilers 23-10.

In the other games Sunday, it was: Baltimore 20, Cincinnati 19; Buffalo 27, New England 24; Detroit 27, New Orleans 14; New York 13, St. Louis 7 and San Francisco 34, Chicago 21.

Safety Dick Anderson set up two Miami touchdowns with a pass interception and fumble recovery as the Dolphins beat the Jets in a heart-stopping game decided in the closing quarter.

With the Jets leading 24-21 in the last period, Anderson fell on a fumble by the Jets' Cliff McLain at the New York 27.

Four plays later, Mercury Morris ran 14 yards around the left side for the winning touchdown.

Don Cockroft kicked a 26-yard field goal with eight seconds left in the game to lift Cleveland over Pittsburgh. The Steelers rallied to win it after blowing a 17-point lead.

"They refused to settle for anything but a victory," said

Cleveland Coach Nick Skorich.

Oakland's Charlie Smith and Marv Hubbard combined for 185 yards rushing and scored a touchdown apiece to lead Oakland over Denver. George Blanda kicked three field goals and also kicked four extra points for Oakland to become the NFL's all-time leader in career conversions with 812.

Quarterback John Hadl and running star Cid Edwards clicked on several key pass plays that gave San Diego a comfortable 24-7 advantage after two quarters and Kansas City never could recover.

Dallas' famed Doomsday Defense frustrated Philadelphia's ground and air attack in soundly beating the Eagles Sunday. The rugged Cowboys held the Eagles to 120 yards rushing and 85 passing.

Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton threw TD bombs of 70, 70 and 66 yards to spark the Vikings over Los Angeles.

Green Bay punter Ron Wilby completed a 66-yard touchdown pass play to Dave Davis on a fake punt and John Stagers returned a punt 85 yards for another score as Green Bay whipped Houston.

WHA executives resign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Both the New York Raiders and Philadelphia Blazers lost club executives in the World Hockey Association Sunday.

General Manager Herb Elk, on the job less than one month, resigned from the financially-troubled New York club as the Raiders were blanking Philadelphia 5-0. Day-to-day operation of the club is now in the hands of WHA administrator James Brown.

At the same time, Philadelphia club President James Cooper also resigned, citing a disagreement between himself and Bernard Brown, majority stockholder in the WHA team.

Elsewhere in the WHA Sunday, Chicago trimmed Minnesota 4-3, Houston took Cleveland 4-2, and Winnipeg hung on to nip Los Angeles 4-3.

In the WHA Saturday, it was New England 3-2 over Ottawa, New York 7, Quebec 1 and Minnesota 5-4 over Philadelphia in overtime.

Mike Laughton ended a nine-game dry spell, scoring two goals to lead the Raiders over Philadelphia. Goalie Pete Donnelly earned the shutout, his second this season against the Blazers.

Chicago bounced from behind twice to overtake Minnesota and end the Fighting Saints' winning streak at five games. Jan Poppel's goal with just over two minutes left gave the Cougars the victory after Reggie Fleming had tied the score for Chicago.

AIC roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Harding College and Southern State have tied for the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference championship.

Harding defeated State College of Arkansas 14-0 Saturday night to earn a share of the AIC trophy while Southern State beat Arkansas-Monticello 43-0.

Harding's win over the Bears gave the Bison a share of their first AIC football title since starting the sports in 1959. It also gave them a chance for a trip to the Ardmore Shrine Bowl in Ardmore, Okla.

Both Harding and Southern have had one loss in the AIC and five victories. Southern finished the season with an 8-2 overall mark, while Harding completed its season at 9-1.

Also Saturday AIC action, Ouachita defeated Henderson 15-14.

Tailback Alan Dixon and quarterback Tom Ed Gooden led the Bisons' winning effort. Dixon scored on a 20-yard run in the second quarter. Later in the period, Gooden heaved a seven-yard pass to fullback Ted Walters for the other touchdown.

Dixon carried 22 times for 90 yards while Gooden completed four of nine passes for 65 yards and picked up another 25 yards rushing.

SCA's only serious threat was a drive to the Bison three, where the Bears ran out of downs.

State College finished the season with a 2-7 record.

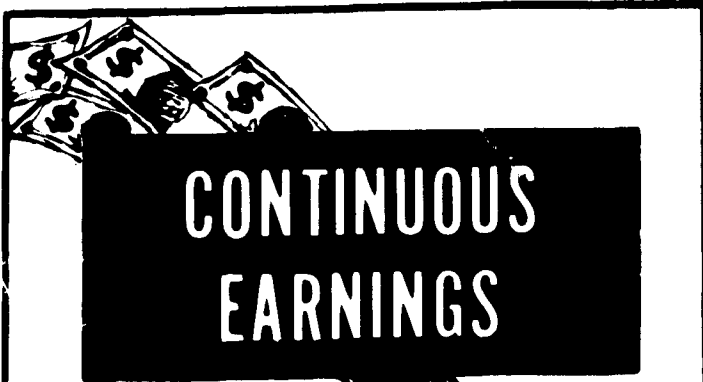

Led by the running of fullback Cleo House, Southern State, the team rushing leader in the NAIA, amassed 442 yards on the ground, including 147 yards on 21 carries by House, a 260-pound senior.

House scored on a one-yard plunge, set up by his 56-yard ramble, and on a 17-yard run.

Southern scored the first time it got the ball when Floyd Canady went over from the two. The Muleriders broke the game open by scoring each time after recovering two UAM fumbles. Quarterback Steve Lamb got one of the touchdowns on a two-yard run and Roy McLeomore plunged one yard for another.

Southern's final touchdown came on a 35-yard bolt by Mike Rubinaki.

Lamb had a hand in three 2-point extra point conversions,

Is this man a health fanatic?

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My friends say I am somewhat of a health fanatic because I like to keep a check on things, but it has paid off. I am 62 years old, six feet tall, weight 155 pounds, chest 41, waist 33, blood pressure 134/76 and all of my health records are pretty good.

On my last examination my cholesterol was 238 which I know is not necessarily high but it is higher than I want it to be. Since then I have cut down on a lot of things—eggs, cheese. I have been a great lover of eggs and breakfast just doesn't seem right without them. I want to ask, and you might want to answer in your column since people are interested in eggs, what you think about my program. For breakfast I use three eggs, throwing two of the yolks away and either frying the large egg or scrambling it in safflower oil. Will the lecithin in the three whites offset the cholesterol in the yolk?

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

After being renominated for President, Abraham Lincoln quipped: "I do not allow myself to suppose that either the convention or the League have concluded to decide that I am either the greatest or best man in America, but rather they have concluded that it is not best to swap horses while crossing the river, and have further concluded that I am not so poor a horse that they might not make a botch of it trying to swap."

Native Art Form

Jazz has often been called the only art form to originate in the United States. No one really knows just where and when jazz was born. It was not brought into existence in any one particular city, although New Orleans is sometimes called the cradle of jazz.

First Jockeyette
Miss Kathy Kusner was the first American woman to receive a jockey's license. She received it from the Maryland Racing Commission in October, 1968.

Stroke deaths may be drastically reduced

By C. G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Heart specialists say that the high toll of death and disability from strokes in the United States might be reduced significantly with better treatment of high blood pressure. A half-million Americans suffer strokes each year, and 200,000 of them die.

As many as 100,000 cases might be prevented with better detection and treatment of high blood pressure, said specialists attending scientific sessions of the American Heart Association.

The problems of hypertension — high blood pressure — emerged as a major concern among physicians attending the meeting, which ended Sunday.

Stroke is the third leading cause of death in the United States and among the top three in 39 other countries.

Hypertension, one of the causes of stroke, afflicts an estimated 22 million Americans. Only about half of these cases have been diagnosed. This is what concerns physicians.

Once diagnosed, the problem can be brought under control, although not cured, with several drugs. Persistent high blood pressure can lead not only to stroke but to heart disease and kidney failure.

Some 1.7 million Americans are living with the disabilities that follow stroke — some totally disabled, unable to walk or speak or move in bed.

While stroke costs the United States $4.6 billion a year, the figures "cannot possibly reveal the extent of personal hardship and suffering for victims of stroke and members of their families," said Dr. Nemat O. Borhani of the University of California, Davis.

Of the 300,000 persons who survive stroke each year, 75 to 80 per cent will need continuing care to one degree or another, Borhani said.

"We have to create stroke awareness," he said.

The incidence of stroke rises increasingly with age and is often associated with the elderly, but participants in the meeting noted that it also affects the young.

Dr. Jack Whisnant of Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., said not more than 10 to 15 per cent of persons with high blood pressure are being treated to have their blood pressure lowered.

Smith is going back

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A stern countenance peers down at employees of the U.S. Disarmament Agency from the official picture on the wall. It is that of their chief, Gerard C. Smith, a no-nonsense fellow who insists on trying to subdue the threat of nuclear war.

Smith headed the U.S. team which negotiated the first-of-its-kind U.S.-Soviet strategic arms-limitation talks (SALT) agreement for a first step in holding down the superpower weapons race.

Now President Nixon is sending the 56-year-old New Yorker to Geneva for a second SALT round starting Tuesday which promises to be as arduous as the first, three-year session.

Smith's impeccable capitalist-family credentials (his father was a vice president and chief lawyer for General Motors) has proved no barrier to dealing with the communist Russians. "The Soviets seem to like his down-to-earth approach," says one U.S. veteran of many a meeting between Smith's team and the Russians' headed by Vladimir S. Semenov. "They don't like levity in these negotiations."

For Smith, broad-shouldered, graying and conventional-mannered, the life of a negotiator in a European capital is no rest cure. He figures he spent 450 nights in hotel rooms during lengthy SALT Phase 1 sessions in Helsinki and Vienna.

If he stayed home, he could relax oftener at one of his several residences—an embassy-size home in Washington's embassy area, a large estate on Maryland's Eastern Shore or his comfortable quarters at Southampton on Long Island.

But taking things easy is not for Smith, who hardly needs his $42,500 official salary for bread money and who has spent much of his life in public-affairs causes.

Smith himself rates awareness of what a nuclear holocaust would wreak as cause for commitment to work against such a catastrophe.

"Anyone who has seen a nuclear explosion," he told an interviewer, "has got to be impressed with the need for bringing the atom under control."

Smith got his lessons in what the atom can do after he left his successful New York law practice in 1950 to join the Atomic Energy Commission as a special assistant to Commissioner Thomas E. Murray.

Four years later he switched to the State Department where he gained a reputation as an idea man on practical arms-curb measures in an atomic age. During President Eisenhower's second term he was assistant secretary of State for policy planning.

As a Republican, Smith left federal ranks when the Democrats took over in 1961. But he kept active in the foreign-affairs field as a government consultant and as a private citizen. He pushed the unsuccessful project for a multilateral nuclear force among the Atlantic allies.

Brandt is persuading old goal

By OTTO DOELLING
Associated Press Writer

BONN (AP) — Willy Brandt, bolstered by his greatest personal election triumph, had an overwhelming mandate today to pursue the tension-easing policies that won him the Nobel Peace Prize.

A record number of West German voters gave his Social-Liberal coalition 54.3 per cent of the 37.4 million ballots cast Sunday against 44.8 per cent for the conservative Christian Democrats. This meant 272 seats for Brandt in the 496-member Bundestag, the lower house of Parliament, a solid majority of 48.

Brandt immediately served notice he plans an unprecedented journey to East Berlin before Christmas to sign his government's friendship treaty with the Communist East German regime.

"I recognize the results of the vote as a mandate to carry forth ... the work we started with success in the last three years," Brandt said in a restrained victory statement. "The majority confirmed we are on the right course."

The magnitude of Brandt's personal victory, which rivaled that achieved by Konrad Adenauer in 1957, exceeded the coalition's expectations. Some stunned politicians spoke of a "landslide" that would change West Germany's political landscape for years to come.

Running with a slogan of "Willy Brandt Must Remain Chancellor," his Social Democratic party alone received 45.9

per cent of the vote and replaced the Christian Democrats party as the largest party in the Bundestag for the first time since the West German republic was formed in 1949. The Social Democrats wound up with 230 Bundestag seats, a gain of six over the 1969 election.

Foreign Minister Walter Scheel's small but pivotal Free Democratic Party gained in stature from its alliance with Brandt's Socialists, receiving a surprising 8.4 per cent of the vote and 42 seats. Three years ago, the liberals barely cleared the 5 per cent hurdle needed to remain in the Bundestag.

For the Christian Democrats, who had ruled West Germany for 20 years from 1949 to 1969, it was their worst election setback. They won 224 seats in the new Bundestag, compared with 242 three years ago.

Defectors from Brandt's forces had swelled the opposition's ranks to 248 by last September, forcing Brandt to dissolve the deadlocked Parliament and call new elections a year ahead of schedule.

Most of the defectors quit the coalition in protest against Brandt's Communist neighbors to the East. The cornerstones of this policy, which won Brandt the 1971 Nobel Peace Prize, have been nonaggression treaties with the Soviet Union and Poland.

7-year-old chess whiz

By JOHN LUMPKIN
Associated Press Writer
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — His dark eyes did not show sadness after losing four consecutive games to opponents sometimes 50 years his elder, and chess remains the most important pursuit in the budding life of little Oscar.

Indeed, 7-year-old Oscar Alejandro Mass of Juarez, Mexico, will be back for more chess tournament competition, possibly next month, his sponsor says.

"He's a little innocent in the traps," says Filiberto Terrazas, a lawyer and teacher who took an interest in Oscar's career in "el ajedrez" — Spanish for chess.

Oswald: "Four spades is a mighty good contract. In the actual play North managed to make 12 tricks after the deuce of spades lead; a spade return to West's ace and the play of a third spade by West. After that start, South had time to ruff one of dummy's clubs and eventually discard all his three hearts on the last two clubs and the fourth diamond."

Jim: "More inspired defense would have held South to five odd. The hand is given to show one of the modern bidding conventions. North's two-diamond bid is what is known as a 'reverse.' He has bid a second suit in such manner that if partner wants to return to his first suit he must go to the three level."

Oswald: "Way back in 1935 I first wrote about reverse bids and said that such bids should be strong. A reverse by responder was a one-round force; a reverse by opener was a very strong invitation to partner to bid again."

Jim: "Modern expert bidding has gone one step further. Any reverse is now treated as a one-round force."

Oswald: "Thus, when North bid two diamonds he wasn't worried about his partner dropping the bidding there. South was forced to rebid. Not that South wanted to. He had a very minimum response. Then, as mentioned earlier, once he rebid, North had a clear-cut four-spade call."

TWO INJURED—Reggie Kendrix, 21, of Texarkana, and his brother, Jeffery, 10, were injured in a one-car accident three miles west of Hope on Highway 67 Friday afternoon. According to the investigating officers, Kendrix was passing another car, when his vehicle suffered a blow-out. He lost control, went off the road and struck a tree. The car was heavily damaged. Kendrix and his brother were treated and released from Branch Hospital, a spokesman said.

Glasgow to court to get car

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Roger A. Glasgow said Sunday he planned to go to court to try to regain possession of his car, which was seized after customs agents discovered marijuana in the vehicle at the Texas-Mexican border Aug. 25.

Glasgow said Sunday he had received word Saturday that the Bureau of Customs would not return his car although a federal jury had acquitted him of charges of marijuana possession.

The former deputy attorney general, now practicing law in Little Rock, had been silent on the case since his acquittal, but he said Sunday the loss of his car was "the final indignity" of the government's "outrageous" handling of the entire case.

Glasgow said he planned not only to go to court to try to get his car back, but also to seek to strike down federal laws that authorize the forfeiture of the property of innocent persons.

"I absolutely refuse to take it sitting down," he said. "I intend to fight it no matter how long it takes."

He said he had planned to be content with the jury verdict finding him innocent until he received a copy of a letter from the Customs Bureau saying the agency had "investigated" his petition for the return of his car and "fails to find the existence of any circumstances to justify the extension of relief" under provisions of customs regulations.

"The audacity of the government to say it's been investigated," Glasgow said. "They have done the most outrageous job of investigating this case from its inception that I have ever seen."

He said the government's investigation of the case was "completely and totally inadequate."

Glasgow said an example was that it failed to properly follow up on a Little Rock taxi driver's statement that a Little Rock businessman who was a passenger in his cab shortly after Glasgow's arrest told him the marijuana was planted in the car in Mexico to politically ruin Glasgow. The incident followed Glasgow's loss in a run-off for the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney in Pulaski and Perry counties.

Lost girls are found in swamp

By F. T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Writer
ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Huddled together in a "fort" made of palm fronds, five frightened little girls sang Christmas carols through the night to keep their spirits up while 1,500 volunteers searched for them in the swampy woods near their home.

The 17-hour ordeal for the five, ranging in age from 2 to 11, ended Sunday morning when a helicopter spotted them standing on a muddy creek bank and directed ground crews to them.

"Are mom and dad looking for us?" asked 11-year-old Tonya Morgan.

"The whole country is looking for you," replied the first searcher to reach the girls. Dirty, wet, scratched and bruised from frequent falls — but otherwise unharmed — the girls were immediately reunited with their parents.

"Mother came running down the road to us with her arms spread wide open," said Tonya, who shared the ordeal with her three younger sisters: Elisha, 10, Carla, 7, and Angela, 2, and schoolmate Karen Llewellyn, 11.

"We got lost," Tonya said. "We followed those stupid dogs."

The girls went for a walk with Karen's two dogs, a mongrel named Poochie and a German shepherd named Lady, after the girls and Mrs. Michael Morgan surprised Karen's mother, Colin Llewellyn, with a birthday party Saturday.

"Poochie saw a raccoon and chased it," chubby brown-haired Karen said. "We ran after him. Pretty soon we didn't know where we were. We've only lived out here a couple weeks and I don't know the place."

Sheriff Ed Duff said the girls probably were never much more than a mile from home. But the dense woods along the north bank of the Tomoka River a few miles outside of Daytona Beach made search operations difficult.

"I wasn't afraid until it got dark," Tonya said. "Elis and I are Girl Scouts but we never camped out in the woods. We tried to huddle together to keep warm."

"We sang Christmas carols and other songs to keep Angela from crying," Karen added.

Minerva: Small atoll is hardly there 'atall'

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — The president of the Republic of Minerva (current population: zero; elevation: -3 at high tide) says the world will soon sit up and take notice of the "newest and smallest nation on earth."

But for now, Morris C. "Bud" Davis, 46, conducts Minerva affairs of state from the provincial capital — his living room in this Los Angeles suburb.

He has never seen Minerva, which consists of two coral reefs lying near the Tropic of Capricorn, underwater most of the time. Minerva, named after the Greek goddess, is 900 miles north of Auckland, New Zealand and 260 miles south of the capital of Tonga.

Davis says he plans to visit Minerva next summer, but right now he is concentrating on averting a war with neighboring Tonga, which claims the territory.

North Minerva is a circular atoll 4½ miles in diameter. South Minerva, which is 17 miles away, is a coral outcropping in the shape of a figure eight, about 3½ miles wide and eight miles long. At low tide, the reefs thrust three feet above the water. At high tide, they disappear.

Davis, who formerly was an electronic engineer, is president of a company called Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises, which was formed for the specific purpose of establishing a new nation somewhere.

There are seven stockholders with a total investment of $250,000 in the project, Davis said in an interview.

"The bulk of the money is from the president of a pharmaceutical firm who wishes, at this time, not to be identified," he said.

Then he explained why the company was started.

"We figured we really couldn't straighten out our own country," so we would start over someplace new," Davis said. "We searched through history books, libraries and nautical charts for anyplace in the world that was unclaimed."

Minerva was surveyed by Capt. H.M. Denham of the Royal Navy in 1854. But the reefs apparently were unclaimed.

On Jan. 16 of this year, two members of Caribbean-Pacific Enterprises and three crewmen set sail from Fiji for a two-day, 300-mile voyage to the reefs.

Once there, they laid claim to the reefs in the name of the Republic of Minerva and raised the Minervan flag — a gold torch of liberty on a blue (for the sea) background which was designed by Davis.

But King Tupou IV of Tonga, general of the 100-man Tonga Defense Force, led an expeditionary band accompanied by Tonga police in June and declared Tongan sovereignty over the reefs.

"We researched the reefs thoroughly," Davis said. "Tonga's boundaries of all rocks, reefs, foreshores and waters have been spelled out in royal proclamations ever since 1867. Minerva is missed by 100 miles."

People in the News

SANTIAGO (AP) — President Salvador Allende will visit New York next month on a two-week foreign trip, but he says he won't be meeting President Nixon.

The Marxist president told newsmen Saturday that he will be in New York only 24 hours to address the U.N. General Assembly.

Allende's trip will include visits to Mexico, Moscow and Havana. He is expected to leave Chile Nov. 30.

Allende is visiting Mexico to repay a visit to Chile earlier this year by President Luis Echeverria. After Mexico, Allende goes to New York to speak to the General Assembly Dec. 4.

The following day he will fly to Moscow for a four-day visit and from there travel to Cuba for three days to repay his personal friend Fidel Castro for a 1971 visit to Chile.

AMMAN Jordan (AP) — King Hussein is "in good health" and doctors said he will leave the hospital within two days, the royal palace announced Sunday.

The 37-year-old king entered the Armed Forces Hospital on Saturday for a general check-up.

The palace said he was suffering from "physical debility."

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi observed her 55th birthday Sunday secluded from the public, reportedly with only her Italian-born daughter-in-law and grandson.

Press reports said she and the family members were at a national park in northern India.

GOLF IN SWAMP (AP)—What do you do with swampy land? Build a golf course on it, says Edward Lawrence Packard, a golf course architect. According to Packard, if land is too swampy for building purposes, it just might be ripe for a golf course. He says that wet areas can be dug out to form man-made lakes or graded higher for trees and fairways.

Dean gets support

By JOHN W. CHACE Associated Press Writer CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A University of Cincinnati dean is finding in nationwide responses overwhelming support for taking his 3-month-old son to work with him.

"I have received nearly 150 pieces of mail plus telephone calls and the ratio is about 25 to 1 in favor of it," said Dr. Hendrik Gideonse, dean of the College of Education.

"The thing that amazes me the most isn't the favorable reaction but that people think it is such an unusual activity and so worthy of attention," said the bearded educator who keeps his son, Hendrik, in a crib in the office and changes his diapers when necessary.

Wells is guest speaker

"With the addition of Byron Holt as a full-time band director at Yerger Junior High this year, the band program in the Hope schools is benefiting because the students are being given the opportunity to begin earlier in their development of musical talent."

Hope High Band Director Gary Wells was speaking to the Hope Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting Friday, Nov. 17, in the Town and Country. Rotarian James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, arranged for the speaker's appearance and introduced him.

Wells outlined future plans for the band which now consists of 62 members. He told of three competitions the band has entered recently in which it obtained superior rating. He expressed hope for increasing the band to 100 members.

Visiting Rotarians Jimmy Ligon of Conway and Alex Goddard of Camden, were at the meeting, and the student guests were Steve Campbell, who was back for the second week, and Mike Brown, who was there for the first week.

School sets courses

The Red River Vocational Technical School has scheduled four eight-hour multimedia first aid classes in November and December. These classes are designed to aid area industry in meeting the safety requirements set forth in the 1971 Occupational Safety and Health Administration Act of the U. S. Dept. of Labor.

Two of the classes will begin Tuesday, Nov. 28, with the remaining two beginning Wednesday, Dec. 6. The first two meetings in each class will be two hours in length and the final class period will be four hours.

Enrollment in each of these classes is limited to 30, and it is important that interested persons telephone Red River Vocational Technical School (777-5723) to reserve space. Should you be unable to attend one of the scheduled classes in your session, it can be made up in one of the other groups.

Monday, Nov. 27, in response to requests from industry, Red River will begin a fork lift operator training class. This class will consist of four three-hour sessions that will cover safety operating procedures and skill tests. Successful completion of this class will result in certification as a fork lift operator.

They're tough CHICAGO (UPI) — Years of fighting them on their home grounds still has not eliminated the mosquito problem, and with good reason: they're born tough.

The habitats of the world's 2,500 species of mosquitoes, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica, range from small holes in trees to huge swamps. Many species can withstand severely contaminated water, including the hot, highly alkaline volcanic pools of Uganda.

Others can tolerate the digestive enzymes of carnivorous plants and some are bred in saline and brackish pools. One species was found in India breeding in a tank of hydrochloric acid.

Cactuses may reach 50 feet tall and weigh 10 tons.

ESCAPEES CAPTURED

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Two unarmed inmates who escaped from Cummins Prison Farm were captured early Saturday afternoon about 2½ miles from the prison.

The two, who left the farm on foot Saturday morning were identified as Louis Strickland, 23, and Vernon Dale Travis, 21. Travis was serving a five-year sentence from St. Francis County for grand larceny and Strickland was serving a five-year sentence from Faulkner County for burglary and grand larceny.

COMMONSPEED

BRUSSELS (AP) — A proposal by the Common Market Executive Commission would limit drivers in Common Market countries to 62 miles per hour on superhighways and 43 m.p.h. on other roads until they have held a drivers license for a year.

Truman tried to block his own VP nomination

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry S. Truman tried to avoid his own nomination as vice president in 1944 because he knew President Franklin D. Roosevelt was in poor health and he did not want to enter the White House "through the back door," his daughter says. In a forthcoming biography of her father, Margaret Truman Daniel writes that Truman dropped his resistance after Roosevelt told him by telephone that to refuse the nomination would be to "break up the Democratic party in the middle of a war."

"Well, if that is the situation, I'll have to say yes. But why the hell didn't he tell me in the first place?" Truman said after Roosevelt hung up. Mrs. Daniel recalls in excerpts of the book in the Nov. 24 issue of Life magazine.

Mrs. Daniel says in the book, "Harry S. Truman," that her father wrote of his reluctance to accept the nomination in a letter to her 10 days before the July Democratic convention. "Yes," Truman wrote, "They are plotting against your dad. Every columnist prognosticator is trying to make him VP against his will. "It is funny how some people would give a fortune to be as close as I am to it and I don't want it ...

"Hope I can dodge it. 1600 Pennsylvania is a nice address but I'd rather not move in through the back door — or any other door at 60."

She says Roosevelt decided to dump Vice President Henry A. Wallace after polls showed the Democrats leading Republican Thomas E. Dewey by only 51 to 49 per cent. While Truman back-pedaled, Wallace and former South Carolina Gov. James F. Byrnes fought for the nomination.

Meanwhile, Democratic National Chairman Robert Hannegan "summoned Dad to his hotel room and sat him down on the bed while he put through a call to President Roosevelt, who was not attending the convention," she writes.

Told that Truman had not yet agreed to accept the nomination, Roosevelt said, "Well, you tell him if he wants to break up the Democratic party in the middle of a war, that's his responsibility."

Investigation begins in death of students

By TOM JORY
Associated Press Writer
BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The state attorney general's office begins a full-scale inquiry today into last Thursday's clash at Southern University in which two students were shot to death.

Atty. Gen. William Guste said late Sunday he had assigned two assistants, one black, one white, to conduct the inquiry requested by Gov. Edwin Edwards.

Guste said the investigation would be conducted in secret. University administrators, meanwhile, were moving quickly to fire faculty members they said had encouraged student protests, and Edwards was branding as "totally inaccurate" a newspaper story that he had blamed a deputy sheriff for the deaths.

The students, Denver A. Smith of New Roads, La., and Leonard Douglas Brown of Gilbert, La., both 20, were struck in the head and shoulders by buckshot as state police and sheriff's deputies scattered a crowd gathered in front of the university's administration building. The violence climaxed three weeks of student protests at the nation's largest predominantly black college, and led to the closing of the school at least through the Thanksgiving holidays.

Southern's branch at New Orleans, the scene of similar campus turmoil in recent weeks, was closed through the coming week, too. But administrators reported the faculty and students there had reached accord on some of the differences separating them.

Focus of the attorney general's investigation apparently will be the 30-minute-long explosion of violence that left the two students dead. Authorities have said their men used nothing but tear gas to disperse students. But Edwards, talking with newsmen, acknowledged a deputy sheriff might have mistakenly fired live ammunition at the crowd.

A Los Angeles Times report from Baton Rouge that quoted the governor as saying "I have no doubt it was a deputy sheriff who fired" brought an angry response from Edwards.

'Fun' in English Class

Edward Cooper's eighth grade English class at Yerger Junior High School got a chance to play "teacher" Thursday. Janice Beck, at top, assumed the role of chairman during a mock election in the class. She uses an audio visual machine to give the class an opportunity to see the tallying of votes cast in the election. Tommy Waters, at bottom, plays the role of Cyrano de Bergerac in a short skit presented to emphasize the importance of figures of speech. Leslie Ferguson, at left, listens to Cyrano's description of his extremely long nose. Dr. Charles Green, assistant professor of education and co-ordinator of teacher education lab at Henderson College visited the class to film the proceedings for use in methods classes now being taught at the college. Mrs. Fern Tarpley of Hope, a student teacher from Henderson College conducted the class as the students participated in mock elections and presented various skits to emphasize the new teachings of role-playing as a method in classroom instruction and learning.

Plea made for youth at Fouke

Texarkana Jaycees continue plea for support for heart victim Darrol Mayton, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mayton of Fouke.

Darrol has a hole in his heart, and is minus a valve on a blood vessel leading from his heart to his lungs; he also has had heart seizures.

Even though Darrol recently lost the sight of one eye, Darrol, according to Dr. Denton Cooley, a heart surgeon, has lived longer than any child so afflicted, in medical history. Dr. Cooley believes he can treat Darrol by placing a plastic valve in his heart.

For this operation to take place, a lot of money is needed. So far, the family has run up a medical bill in excess of $23,000. An effort is now under way to raise $15,000 so that he can at least be given a chance.

A fund has been established to receive donations for Darrol. Chairman of the fund drive is Mrs. Guy E. Dickert Sr., of Fouke. Director of the fund drive for the Texarkana Jaycees is Bill O'Neill. All Contributions should be made out to the James Darrol Mayton Fund, and sent to the Texarkana Jaycees, 2803 Texas Blvd., Texarkana, Tex. 75501.

Business mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Gilbert, the new president of the U.S. Savings and Loan League, expects one of his biggest challenges will be to block the threat of a commercial bank monopoly in certain consumer finance services.

If that sounds odd to you it should be remembered that savings and loan associations are not banks. Their services are limited to savings accounts and loans, mainly for housing.

Their essential purpose is to channel the savings of ordinary Americans into housing. They are the biggest home mortgage lenders in a nation of 63 per cent home ownership.

But they are beginning to balk at the restraints, which they feel could place them at a distinct disadvantage in this electronic world.

They cannot, for example, offer third-party transfer of funds. In its simplest form, a third-party transfer would be the use of a check written by you to transfer funds out of your account into that of another.

This is done 23 million times a day by holders of checking accounts, every one of which is at a commercial bank. Savings and loans cannot offer them.

Now the fund transfer system is about to become more complex, and the associations worry that, while they could live without such powers in the past, they may not be able to in the future.

The reason is that banks are developing plans to join into groups that would transfer funds electronically. Your paycheck, for example, would be deposited directly into your bank, and the bank then would pay certain bills.

Moreover, it is now generally agreed that the shopper of the future will use a plastic card with a magnetic strip that will permit the store to deduct instantly the purchase price from your account and transfer it to theirs.

If the savings and loans are excluded from such systems it could mean disaster. The added convenience of such commercial bank services would likely be more than the S&Ls could offset with their higher interest on savings.

"A monopoly wasn't granted to the banks from Mt. Sinai," said Gilbert in an interview at the S&L convention in Miami Beach.

He indicated that he and other S&L officials intend to use every legal means to prevent a monopoly of fund transfer services.

"The nation will be better served by two systems," he said. "Banks to take care of commerce and industry, and we family financial centers to serve people."

The Constitution of the United States was adopted Sep. 17, 1787.

Plan winter feeding for more production

A planned winter feeding program can increase the efficiency of production on most beef farms and ranches, according to Calvin Caldwell, county Extension agent. Develop a plan that makes the maximum use of all available pastures as well as hay or other stored roughages.

An inventory of feedstuffs on hand starting with an estimate of available pasture (cow grazing days) and quantity of hay in storage on your farm is of major importance. A determination of feeding value or quality through a forage test will be valuable in calculating other feed needs.

Next, inventory cattle to be carried through the winter feeding period and calculate the total feeds required to meet their nutritional needs with special emphasis on protein and energy.

After determining feed needs and quantity and quality of forage available, it will be much easier to estimate the supplemental feeds needed to adequately feed the herd.

One management practice that will increase efficiency of feeding the most is the grouping of cattle according to their nutritional needs. (Every producer should separate dry cows from cows that are nursing calves.) Cows with calves need from 75 to 80 per cent more feed than dry cows. Younger animals require more protein in their ration than do mature cattle. First and second calf heifers also need to be fed on a higher plane of nutrition than do mature cows in the herd.

When good quality roughages are available in sufficient quantities, dry cows seldom need grain or protein supplementation. Availability, quality, and intake of roughages will determine to a large degree the kind and amount of supplemental feeding needed with lactating cows.

One of the nutritional requirements most often overlooked in any feeding program is an adequate water supply. Caldwell says that feed efficiency and production are both improved when warm water, freshly pumped from a well or a heated water tank, is provided during freezing weather.

The control of internal and external parasites throughout the year will greatly improve feed efficiency and production in all cattle operations.

Holiday favorites at discount prices!

If the Pilgrim Fathers were to see the plump, juicy turkeys we enjoy on Thanksgiving, they could scarcely be expected to recognize them as descendants of the lean, lanky birds they carved and shared with their Indian neighbors. And the Pilgrim Mothers would be amazed by the wide assortment of foods which we put on our Thanksgiving table without need or long days of preparation for the feast. Even you might be surprised to see the big choice of fine foods we have assembled for your selection.
